

You control your life

You create

You get to live a varied life

You get to work with people you like

You get the rewards

You can follow your passion

You can make a stand

You get to choose your hours

You're rewarded with self-fulfillment

You can help people

PUBLIC CONSCIOUSNESS

Mortgage, Rent, Lease: Obviously where you live, but don't forget about your studio (or shop) where you work

Utilities: electricity, gas, water, cable, telephone

Groceries: kind of a necessity, wouldn't you say???

Car: loan, maintenance, upkeep, repairs

Clothes: another necessity

Savings Account: putting money aside for "rainy days"

Equipment: buying, repairing, and replacing equipment and supplies to make your dreams a reality

Insurance: health, dental, optical, automotive, disability, and the list goes on.

Life: going out with friends, vacation, self-care if you will

Family: add up all the expenses.....and multiply by the number of family members in your family